Education for Environmental Specialists

FRIDAY - October 9th, 2015

The Virginia Water Well Association is providing continuing education for their licensed contractors and membership as well as environmental specialists. If you have Sanitarians that are looking to better understand the logistics behind water well drilling and construction, have them join us on the Eastern Shore!

This year's demonstration day is taking place in Exmore, Virginia. The day's emphasis will be on coastal plain drilling, proper pump test techniques, borehole logging and explanation of the geology. The Department of Environmental Quality will also be speaking on the Eastern Groundwater Management policies in relation to the Withdrawal Permits and the new GW-II forms that are being required statewide.

Come listen to the experts and this year's host; Bundick Well & Pump!
